THE SEASON OF CREATION – AN INTRODUCTION

The Season of Creation, or Creationtide, is a period of the liturgical year from September 1 to October 4, dedicated to God as Creator and Sustainer of all life, while renewing our commitment to caring for our one planet home.

The celebration of this Season began in 1989 when Ecumenical Patriarch Dimitrios I established September 1 as a Day of Prayer for Creation for the Orthodox Church. The World Council of Churches extended the celebration to October 4, the Feast Day of St. Francis of Assisi. An ecumenical effort is now underway to establish a worldwide Feast of Creation on September 1.

In 2022, the 80th General Convention of the Episcopal Church recognized climate change as “an all-encompassing social crisis and moral emergency that impacts and interconnects every aspect of pastoral concern including health, poverty, employment, racism, social justice, and family life and that can only be addressed by a Great Work involving every sector of society, including the Church.”

The theme for this year’s Season of Creation is Living Waters, drawn from Ezekiel 47: 1- 12, which portrays God’s life-giving water flowing from the temple of God. In Ezekiel, water flows from God’s sanctuary, healing and renewing land, waters, and human responsibility toward creation. The prophet’s vision unfolds amid exile and loss. Water flows from the temple—at first a tiny stream that deepens, bringing life to dead areas and restoring ecosystems. To receive this new life, we must step into the waters ourselves—becoming part of God’s river, joining creation’s healing.

Ezekiel’s message emerged during Babylonian exile after Jerusalem’s destruction. Yet his prophecy doesn’t end in judgment. The river in Ezekiel 47 shows renewal: when the Lord dwells with his people, the land restores itself.

This restoration extends beyond human salvation — it heals land, water, and ecosystems. The trees’ leaves bring “healing,” providing both sustenance and flourishing for humanity and creation alike. Ezekiel 47 carries distinct environmental meaning: global restoration of life, ecological healing, the interdependence of humanity and the natural world. It brings hope for both humanity and creation.

GOOD WORDS FOR THIS WEEK

A Reading from Reconciliation: Lament and Hope, Victoria Marie

We seek reconciliation with all life. When we say we believe in the sanctity of all life, that includes non-human life: the creatures of the sea and the birds of the air. It also included human livelihood. Overriding it all is the desire to follow Jesus’ command to love. That is why at the gates of the fossil fuel mega-project we prayed for justice for our indigenous brothers and sisters and for industry workers; we prayed for the eagle pair evicted from their home. We prayed for the earth and her waters. That day, we joined the growing number of people arrested for living into reconciliation. Undeterred, and fighting against apathy and despair, our peaceful protests will continue. We believe, like Martin Luther King Jr., that ‘the arc of the moral universe is long, but it bends toward justice’. So, motivated by gospel faith and love, we continue to work to make reconciliation a generally accepted reality.

THE WORD OF GOD

A Penitential Order for the Season of Creation

The people standing, the Celebrant says

Blessed be God: Father, Son, and Holy Spirit.

People And blessed be his kingdom, now and for ever. Amen.

The Deacon says

Let us confess our sins against God and God's creation.

Silence may be kept

For our unwillingness to feel the suffering of others, and our readiness to live comfortably with injustice.

Forgive us, O God.

For our self-righteousness that denies guilt,
and our self-interest that strangles compassion.

Forgive us, O God.

For our abuse of this planet
and our exploitation of its resources.

Forgive us, O God.

For our failings in community
and our reticence to become involved.

Forgive us, O God.

For the times we were too eager to be better than others,
when we were too rushed to care,
when we were too tired to bother,
when we were too preoccupied to listen,
when we were too quick to act out of motives other than love.

Forgive us, O God.

Celebrant

May God forgive us, Christ renew us,
and the Spirit enable us to grow in love. Amen.

Pietermaritzburg Agency for Christian Social Awareness

Then is said

Glory be to God on high,
and on earth peace, good will towards men.

We praise thee, we bless thee,
we worship thee,
we glorify thee,
we give thanks to thee for thy great glory,
O Lord God, heavenly King, God the Father Almighty.

*O Lord, the only-begotten Son, Jesus Christ;
O Lord God, Lamb of God, Son of the Father,
that takest away the sins of the world,
have mercy upon us.
Thou that takest away the sins of the world,
receive our prayer.
Thou that sittest at the right hand of God the Father,
have mercy upon us.*

*For thou only art holy;
thou only art the Lord;
thou only, O Christ,
with the Holy Ghost,
art most high in the glory of God the Father. Amen.*

The Collects of the Day

Celebrant The Lord be with you.

People And with thy spirit.

Celebrant Let us pray.

O God, forasmuch as without thee we are not able to please thee, mercifully grant that thy Holy Spirit may in all things direct and rule our hearts; through Jesus Christ our Lord, who with thee and the same Spirit liveth and reigneth, one God, now and for ever. Amen.

O merciful Creator, whose hand is open wide to satisfy the needs of every living creature: Make us, we beseech thee, ever thankful for thy loving providence; and grant that we, remembering the account that we must one day give, may be faithful stewards of thy bounty; through Jesus Christ our Lord, who with thee and the Holy Spirit liveth and reigneth, one God, for ever and ever. Amen.

First Reading

Exodus 14:19-31

The angel of God who was going before the Israelite army moved and went behind them; and the pillar of cloud moved from in front of them and took its place behind them. It came between the army of Egypt and the army of Israel. And so the cloud was there with the darkness, and it lit up the night; one did not come near the other all night.

Then Moses stretched out his hand over the sea. The Lord drove the sea back by a strong east wind all night, and turned the sea into dry land; and the waters were divided. The Israelites went into the sea on dry ground, the waters forming a wall for them on their right and on their left. The Egyptians pursued, and went into the sea after them, all of Pharaoh's horses, chariots, and chariot drivers. At the morning watch the Lord in the pillar of fire and cloud looked down upon the Egyptian army, and threw the Egyptian army into panic. He clogged their chariot wheels so that they turned with difficulty. The Egyptians said, "Let us flee from the Israelites, for the Lord is fighting for them against Egypt."

Then the Lord said to Moses, "Stretch out your hand over the sea, so that the water may come back upon the Egyptians, upon their chariots and chariot drivers." So Moses stretched out his hand over the sea, and at dawn the sea returned to its normal depth. As the Egyptians fled before it, the Lord tossed the Egyptians into the sea. The waters returned and covered the chariots and the chariot drivers, the entire army of Pharaoh that had followed them into the sea; not one of them remained. But the Israelites walked on dry ground through the sea, the waters forming a wall for them on their right and on their left.

Thus the Lord saved Israel that day from the Egyptians; and Israel saw the Egyptians dead on the seashore. Israel saw the great work that the Lord did against the Egyptians. So the people feared the Lord and believed in the Lord and in his servant Moses.

Psalm 114 In exitu Israel St. Helena Psalter

Alleluia! When Israel came out of Egypt, *
the house of Jacob from a people of strange speech, Judah became God's sanctuary *
and Israel God's dominion.
The sea beheld it and fled; *
Jordan turned and went back.
The mountains skipped like rams, *
and the little hills like young sheep.
What ailed you, O sea, that you fled; *
O Jordan, that you turned back?
You mountains, that you skipped like rams; *
you little hills, like young sheep?
Tremble, O earth, at the presence of God, *
at the presence of the God of Jacob,
Who turned the hard rock into a pool of water * and flint-stone into a flowing spring.

Second Reading

Romans 14:1-12

Welcome those who are weak in faith, but not for the purpose of quarreling over opinions. Some believe in eating anything, while the weak eat only vegetables. Those who eat must not despise those who abstain, and those who abstain must not pass judgment on those who eat; for God has welcomed them. Who are you to pass judgment on servants of another? It is before their own lord that they stand or fall. And they will be upheld, for the Lord is able to make them stand.

Some judge one day to be better than another, while others judge all days to be alike. Let all be fully convinced in their own minds. Those who observe the day, observe it in honor of the Lord. Also those who eat, eat in honor of the Lord, since they give thanks to God; while those who abstain, abstain in honor of the Lord and give thanks to God.

We do not live to ourselves, and we do not die to ourselves. If we live, we live to the Lord, and if we die, we die to the Lord; so then, whether we live or whether we die, we are the Lord's. For to this end Christ died and lived again, so that he might be Lord of both the dead and the living.

Why do you pass judgment on your brother or sister? Or you, why do you despise your brother or sister? For we will all stand before the judgment seat of God. For it is written,

"As I live, says the Lord, every knee shall bow to me, and every tongue shall give praise to God."

So then, each of us will be accountable to God.

The Gospel

Matthew 18:21-35

The Holy Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ according to Matthew.

People Glory be to thee, O Lord.

Peter came and said to Jesus, "Lord, if another member of the church sins against me, how often should I forgive? As many as seven times?" Jesus said to him, "Not seven times, but, I tell you, seventy-seven times."

"For this reason the kingdom of heaven may be compared to a king who wished to settle accounts with his slaves. When he began the reckoning, one who owed him ten thousand talents was brought to him; and, as he could not pay, his lord ordered him to be sold, together with his wife and children and all his possessions, and payment to be made. So the slave fell on his knees before him, saying, 'Have patience with me, and I will pay you everything.' And out of pity for him, the lord of that slave released him and forgave him the debt. But that same slave, as he went out, came upon one of his fellow slaves who owed him a hundred denarii; and seizing him by the throat, he said, 'Pay what you owe.' Then his fellow slave fell down and pleaded with him, 'Have patience with me, and I will pay you.' But he refused; then he went and threw him into prison until he would pay the debt. When his fellow slaves saw what had happened, they were greatly distressed, and they went and reported to their lord all that had taken place. Then his lord summoned him and said to him, 'You wicked slave! I forgave you all that debt because you pleaded with me. Should you not have had mercy on your fellow slave, as I had mercy on you?' And in anger his lord handed him over to be tortured until he would pay his entire debt. So my heavenly Father will also do to every one of you, if you do not forgive your brother or sister from your heart."

The Gospel of the Lord.

People Praise be to thee, O Christ.

The Sermon

The Rev. Dr. Paul Jacobson

A period of silent reflection is observed.

The Nicene Creed

We believe in one God,
the Father, the Almighty,
maker of heaven and earth,
of all that is, seen and unseen.

*We believe in one Lord, Jesus Christ,
the only Son of God,
eternally begotten of the Father,
God from God, Light from Light,
true God from true God,
begotten, not made,
of one Being with the Father.
Through him all things were made.
For us and for our salvation
he came down from heaven:
by the power of the Holy Spirit
he became incarnate from the Virgin Mary,
and was made man.
For our sake he was crucified under Pontius Pilate;
he suffered death and was buried.
On the third day he rose again
in accordance with the Scriptures;
he ascended into heaven
and is seated at the right hand of the Father.
He will come again in glory to judge the living and the dead,
and his kingdom will have no end.*

*We believe in the Holy Spirit, the Lord, the giver of life, who proceeds from the Father and the Son.
With the Father and the Son he is worshiped and glorified.
He has spoken through the Prophets.
We believe in one holy catholic and apostolic Church.
We acknowledge one baptism for the forgiveness of sins.
We look for the resurrection of the dead,
and the life of the world to come. Amen.*

Prayers of the People for Season of Creation

The Deacon bids the Prayers

In the beginning, God was.

Here and now, God is.

In the future, God will be.

Therefore, let us pray for the revealing of the reign of God in the world, now and always.

An Intercessor leads the Prayers. During the silences, the people may offer their own prayers, either silently or aloud.

Creator of earth, sea, and sky, kindle the fire of your Spirit within us that we may be emboldened to heal and defend the earth, and pour your blessing upon all who work for the good of the planet.

Silence

O God, the Giver of life,

Hear our prayer.

Source of life, heal and redeem the wounds of your creation, and visit the places and people who suffer from our indifference, neglect, and greed.

Silence

O God, the Giver of life,

Hear our prayer.

Author of the book of nature, receive our gratitude for places of restoration and healing, and continue to bless those places that feed our lives and spirits.

Silence

O God, the Giver of life,

Hear our prayer.

Giver of all good gifts, awaken us daily to our dependence upon your bounty, and make us always thankful for the abundance of your blessings.

Silence

O God, the Giver of life,

Hear our prayer.

Divine Physician, heal our communities, especially those where neglect, greed, or violence inflict suffering upon people and other creatures.

Silence

O God, the Giver of life,

Hear our prayer.

Comforter of all the earth, sustain the people of this congregation who seek your presence and help, especially Jerry, Brian, Adrienne, Frank, Allen ("R.B."), Desiree, Bill, Kitty, Nicole, Etta, Helen, Glenda, Thomas, Gloria, Dolores, John, Steven, Julien, Joan, Kevin, David, Betsey, Pat, Ray, Gwen, Charlene, Bruce, Bruce, and those we name now.

Silence

O God, the Giver of life,

Hear our prayer.

Rock and refuge of all your creatures, receive into everlasting mercy all those who have died, especially Vincent Fowlkes and those we name now.

Silence

O God, the Giver of life,

Hear our prayer.

The Celebrant concludes with the following Collect

Bountiful God,

Where we lack love, open our hearts to the world;

where we waste, give us discipline to conserve;

where we neglect, awaken our minds and wills to insight and care.

Together with all your creatures, may we honor and serve you in all things, for you live and reign with Christ,

Redeemer of all, and with your Holy Spirit, one God, now and for ever. Amen.

The Peace

Celebrant The peace of the Lord be always with you.

People And with thy spirit.

Then the Ministers and People may greet one another in the name of the Lord.

Welcome and Announcements

THE HOLY COMMUNION

The Great Thanksgiving

Eucharistic Prayer A

The people remain standing. The Celebrant, whether bishop or priest, faces them and says

The Lord be with you.

People And with thy spirit.

Celebrant Lift up your hearts.

People We lift them up unto the Lord.

Celebrant Let us give thanks unto our Lord God.

People It is meet and right so to do.

Then, facing the Holy Table, the Celebrant proceeds

It is very meet, right, and our bounden duty, that we should at all times, and in all places, give thanks unto thee, O Lord, holy Father, almighty, everlasting God. Through Jesus Christ our Lord; who on the first day of the week overcame death and the grave, and by his glorious resurrection opened to us the way of everlasting life. Therefore with Angels and Archangels, and with all the company of heaven, we laud and magnify thy glorious Name, evermore praising thee, and saying.

Celebrant and People

Holy, holy, holy, Lord God of Hosts:

Heaven and earth are full of thy glory.

Glory be to thee, O Lord most High.

Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord.

Hosanna in the highest.

The people kneel or stand. The Celebrant continues

Holy and gracious Father: In thine infinite love thou didst make us for thyself; and, when we had fallen into sin and become subject to evil and death, thou didst mercifully send Jesus Christ, thine only-begotten and eternal Son, to share our humanity, to live and die as one of us, and to reconcile us unto thee, who art the God and Father of all.

He stretched out his arms upon the cross, and there made an offering of himself in obedience to thy will, a perfect sacrifice for the whole world.

At the following words concerning the bread, the Celebrant is to hold it, or lay a hand upon it; and at the words concerning the cup, to hold or place a hand upon the cup and any other vessel containing wine to be consecrated.

On the night in which he was betrayed unto suffering and death, our Lord Jesus took bread; and when he had given thanks unto thee, he broke it, and gave it to his disciples, saying, "Take, eat: this is my body, which is given for you. Do this for the remembrance of me."

Likewise, after supper he took the cup, and when he had given thanks, he gave it to them, saying, "Drink ye all of this: For this is my Blood of the new Covenant, which is shed for you and for many for the remission of sins. Do this, as oft as ye shall drink it, for the remembrance of me."

Therefore we proclaim the mystery of faith:

Celebrant and People

Christ has died.

Christ is risen.

Christ will come again.

The Celebrant continues

We celebrate the memorial of our redemption, O Father, in this sacrifice of praise and thanksgiving. Recalling his blessed death, his mighty resurrection and glorious ascension, we offer unto thee these gifts.

Sanctify them, we beseech thee, by thy Holy Spirit, that they may be for thy people the Body and Blood of thy Son, Jesus Christ, the holy food and drink of new and unending life in him. Do thou likewise † sanctify us thy servants, that we may faithfully receive this holy Sacrament and serve thee in unity, constancy, and peace; and at the last day bring us with (the blessed and glorious Virgin Mary, Blessed N., and) all thy saints into the joy of thine eternal kingdom.

All this we ask through thy Son Jesus Christ our Lord, by whom and with whom and in whom, in the unity of the Holy Spirit, all honor and glory be unto thee, O Father Almighty, world without end. Amen.

Celebrant

And now, as our Savior Christ hath taught us, we are bold to say.

People and Celebrant

Our Father, who art in heaven,

hallowed be thy Name,

thy kingdom come,

thy will be done,

on earth as it is in heaven.

Give us this day our daily bread.

And forgive us our trespasses,

as we forgive those who trespass against us.

And lead us not into temptation,

but deliver us from evil.

For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory,

for ever and ever. Amen.

The Breaking of the Bread

The Celebrant breaks the consecrated Bread.

A period of silence is kept.

Then may be sung or said

Alleluia. Christ our Passover is sacrificed for us;

Therefore let us keep the feast. Alleluia.

The following or some other suitable anthem may be sung or said here

O Lamb of God, that takest away the sins of the world,
have mercy upon us.

O Lamb of God, that takest away the sins of the world,
have mercy upon us.
O Lamb of God, that takest away the sins of the world,
grant us thy peace.

Facing the People, the Celebrant may say the following Invitation

The Gifts of God for the People of God.

and may add Take them in remembrance that Christ died for you, and feed on him in your hearts by faith, with thanksgiving.

The ministers receive the Sacrament in both kinds, and then immediately deliver it to the people.

The Bread and the Cup are given to the communicants with these or similar words

The Body of our Lord Jesus Christ, which was given for thee, preserve thy body and soul unto everlasting life. Take and eat this in remembrance that Christ died for thee, and feed on him in thy heart by faith, with thanksgiving.

The Blood of our Lord Jesus Christ, which was shed for thee, preserve thy body and soul unto everlasting life. Drink this in remembrance that Christ's Blood was shed for thee, and be thankful.

or with these words

The Body (Blood) of our Lord Jesus Christ keep you in everlasting life. [Amen.]

or with these words

The Body of Christ, the bread of heaven. [Amen.]

The Blood of Christ, the cup of salvation. [Amen.]

After Communion, the Celebrant says

Let us pray.

Almighty and everliving God, we most heartily thank thee for that thou dost feed us, in these holy mysteries, with the spiritual food of the most precious Body and Blood of thy Son our Savior Jesus Christ; and dost assure us thereby of thy favor and goodness towards us; and that we are very members incorporate in the mystical body of thy Son, the blessed company of all faithful people; and are also heirs, through hope, of thy everlasting kingdom. And we humbly beseech thee, O heavenly Father, so to assist us with thy grace, that we may continue in that holy fellowship, and do all such good works as thou hast prepared for us to walk in; through Jesus Christ our Lord, to whom, with thee and the Holy Ghost, be all honor and glory, world without end. Amen.

The Blessing

Dismissal

The Deacon dismisses the People, who respond:

Thanks be to God.

Notes on the Service for Sept. 13, 2026, the Sixteenth Sunday after Pentecost, Proper 19

By the Rev. Stephen Weissman

On the Eastern Orthodox calendar, the church year begins on September 1, unlike the Western Churches' calendar, which starts its year on the First Sunday of Advent. On September 1, 1989, the Patriarch Bartholomew of Constantinople established a new Feast of Creation, calling for prayer and thanksgiving for the created universe. The Patriarch's proposal caught on as awareness of threats to the environment intensified, and Christians in many places began observing September 1 with such devotions. By 2024, the Consultation on Common Texts, the World Council of Churches, and other ecumenical commissions had drawn up Scripture readings for the month of September, and designated the period from September 1 to the feast day of Francis of Assisi, October 4, the Season of Creation. The Episcopal Church has joined many other denominations in that observance.

All the readings from the Hebrew Bible for the Season of Creation are about the Exodus, the formative experience of the Jews. According to the Hebrew Bible, Jewish history began with the call of Abraham, but the event which made Abraham's tribes into a nation was the Exodus. In the account of the Exodus which we read today, scholars have detected two strands, an older strand which describes a strong wind which pushed back the Reed Sea waters, enabling the Israelites to pass through on foot, but clogging the wheels of Egyptian chariots, and a second, more recent strand of narrative which says that at Moses' command, the waters stood up like walls on either side of the Israelites, and then returned to engulf the Egyptians.

Psalm 114 is a hymn celebrating the Exodus. It opens with an unusual subordinate clause, "When Israel came out..." which sweeps us into the narrative momentum of God's deliverance from, literally, "a barbarous folk," stressing that the anguish of the Hebrews had been sharpened by their oppressors having spoken an unintelligible tongue.* In contrast to the account in the first reading, in today's psalm the sea fled in terror before God's power, not at Moses waving his staff. Notice the development: First, the waters fled, then the mountains skipped, then the earth trembled, then the flint turned into water. All creatures obeyed their Maker.

Today's second reading is a passage in Paul's Letter to the Romans where he is contending with factionalism in the Church in Rome. It appears that one group in the church was keeping dietary laws more strict than those of the Torah because meat obtained in Roman markets was not kosher, and was observing particular feasts and fasts, and was judging those who did not.

Paul exhorts them that just as one should not judge another's servants, so we are not to judge God's servants, for both those who observe rules and those who do not are both doing so in honor of the same Master. The section beginning, "None of us lives to himself and none of us dies to himself...." may be used as an epistle at funerals.

Matthew 18 is instructions about conduct among disciples. The portion read today, like today's epistle, stresses repeated forgiveness, and it illustrates forgiveness with a parable about a servant who is forgiven a great debt by his lord, but who refuses to forgive even a small debt of his fellow servant.

From Father Paul

Dear Ones,

On Sunday, we will enter the Season of Creation which will last for four Sundays, ending on October 4, the Feast of St. Francis of Assisi. Music, prayers, and ritual actions will draw our attention to God's Creation as gift, and to God's call to steward that gift on behalf of others. When you enter the Nave on Sunday, you will see above the baptismal font a splendid display of the Waters of Creation that we have brought from our travels. As part of the season at the 10:30 Eucharist, we will proclaim our faith and renew our baptismal promises each week at the font. I look forward to seeing you on Sunday.

Glorify the Lord, you angels and all powers of the Lord, O heavens and all waters about the heavens.

While in Minneapolis last week, I visited, again, the Mississippi River. My water bottle was too late to make it into the installation, but here are some photos of a much smaller Mississippi. You can see Minneapolis to the south.

Although its beginning was overshadowed by a shooting and brief shutdown of the hotel area, the Minneapolis conference was splendid! There was a wonderful combination of reviewing where (and how far) we've come towards the full inclusion of LGBTQIA+ people, honoring those whose work has brought us thus far, and pledging ourselves to a broader vision of what the beloved community might be, especially for trans and nonbinary folks. Stories were told with laughter and tears, and I was thrilled to see so many friends from nearly every chapter of my life, as well as making new friends for the work ahead. Missouri Voter Education Sessions

September 8 & 14

Every voter deserves clear, reliable information and the confidence to participate fully in our elections. As Missouri's voting landscape continues to change, staying informed matters not only for those preparing to cast a ballot, but also for the organizations, faith communities, and community leaders others trust for guidance.

These conversations will go beyond the fundamentals of voter registration and voting rights to explore recent legal and policy developments, emerging sources of confusion, and practical ways to respond. Even those who regularly engage in voting rights or voter education work will gain timely updates, useful resources, and an opportunity to think through what these changes may mean in practice.

We hope you will join us and invite others who would benefit. Learn more about each session below and register for the one that best fits your role, or join us for both. A meal is provided. Register here <https://fs29.formsite.com/dKn5NW/oeyb0rprsn/index>

A Prayer for September 11 from the Episcopal Diocese of New York

O Almighty God, who brings good out of evil and turns even the wrath of your children towards your promised peace: Hear our prayers this day as we remember those of many nations and differing faiths whose lives were cut short by the fierce flames of anger and hatred. Hasten the time when the menace of war shall be removed. Cleanse both us and those perceived to be our enemies of all hatred and distrust. Pour out the spirit of peace on all the rulers of our world that we may be brought through strife to the lasting peace of the kingdom of your Son; Jesus Christ, our Lord, who lives and reigns with you, in the unity of the Holy Spirit, one God, for ever and ever. Amen.

Creationtide blessings,

Breakfast

On Sunday, September 20, breakfast will be hosted by Bob and Margaret Emert in the South Parish Hall, following the 8:00 a.m. service. All are welcome!

The Trinity Arts Committee is opening the Parish Gallery's next show on September 25th, with a reception from 5-7PM. In this exhibition, titled "Diffusion," we will be showcasing paintings from local St. Louis artist James Spell. Pieces will be available for sale.

Arts Brochures Available in the Narthex

The Arts Committee has recently updated and reprinted two brochures that have been absent for quite some time. One includes photos and artists' statements about the 2006 Stations of the Cross exhibit, which was the impetus for forming the Arts Committee twenty years ago. We gathered together 14 artists and crafters from our pews who each selected a number and created a new interpretation of that station of the cross. The exhibit debuted at Trinity in 2006 but also traveled around the area and was shown in other Episcopal churches and even for other faith groups. The other brochure is a self-guided tour of the art, architecture and design of Trinity. The first version of this was also created in 2006, but was updated this year with quite a few new entries. The photos and instructions guide you through our building, although the brochure can be equally enjoyed from your pew. Both of these are in the literature rack in the narthex if you are interested.

I am happy to announce a probable new cooperation with BJC resources. Through our nurse Sharon's connections, she and I will be meeting with social service staff from BJC who coordinate housing for discharge patients who are unhoused. Our hope is that they can work with members of our unhoused community, some of whom frequent the BJC ER. Additionally, there is a department at BJC that identifies food availability for those people unaware of our presence. They are visiting us Thursday afternoon (9/10) to discuss these issues. Many thanks to nurse Sharon for starting this discussion.

I have received many thanks from St. John's, Tower Grove regarding the sharing of our remaining produce from food pantry each week. The food we give them is still good but would not be so by the next Tuesday pantry. Rather than discard it we now gather it and St. John's picks it up on Friday morning and uses it for their Saturday Peace Meal. A definite win for everyone.

My continued thanks to everyone, parishioners, donors, and volunteers, for your support as we seek to address new needs as they occur.

This Week's Core Value: Anglo-Catholic Worship

We believe that devotion to the Real Presence on the Altar leads us to devotion to the Real Presence in our neighbor. We gather for a multi-sensory experience, rooted in consistency and ancient rhythms that anchor our wandering bodies and souls.

Funeral Services for Phil Kauffman will take place on Saturday, September 19, at Christ Church Cathedral, 1210 Locust Street, STL, MO.

10:00am Visitation with family and friends

11:00am Funeral/Celebration of Life and Interment of ashes

A light luncheon and fellowship will follow. If you would like to help our funeral hospitality team, please be in touch with Jane Mayfield at jane.mayfield@outlook.com (<mailto:jane.mayfield@outlook.com>)

Thank you for your prayers for Phil, his family and dear friends. A particular thanks to all who loved Phil in his years here in St. Louis and over his 80 years of faithful care for others as a nurse, avid volunteer in the city, at the cathedral, here at Trinity, and in life.

A funeral service for Nan Sweet will be held here at Trinity at 11:00 a.m. on Saturday, October 24th, followed by a reception.
